

Thank you

The family of Denis Masgutov would like to thank all who have sent cards, gifts, well wishes, and donations for the service of PTSD in name of Denis' Fund since his death.

"Just as one candle lights another and can light thousands of other candles, so one heart illuminates another heart and can illuminate thousands of other hearts." – Leo Tolstoy.

And so it was with our beloved Denis. He influenced many people in his life and we will carry him in our hearts forever. Thank you for your kind wishes and heartfelt love at this time.

We thank Wil, from the Netherlands, for choosing these appropriate words of Denis' favorite author – Leo Tolstoy. Thank you to all the MNRI® groups for supporting us, celebrating Denis' life, and praying for his family during workshops and conferences in different countries.

—Svetlana Masgutova and family

We remember

December 7, 2016 will be six months since our beloved Denis Masgutov was suddenly taken away from his dear family, friends, and colleagues.

Please join us in a world-wide Vigil on December 7 together with Denis' family and many, many friends and colleagues. We invite you to light a candle on that day, where ever you are in this world at 7 pm in the Polish time zone (1 pm. CST in the US) and keep it lighted for 3 days. We will honor and remember him for his friendship, enthusiasm, and love.

Let this also appear on your Facebook timeline (if you have one), so we can support each other and connect in this worldwide light at the same time. We will be all in this together!

Five new journal articles published on MNRI

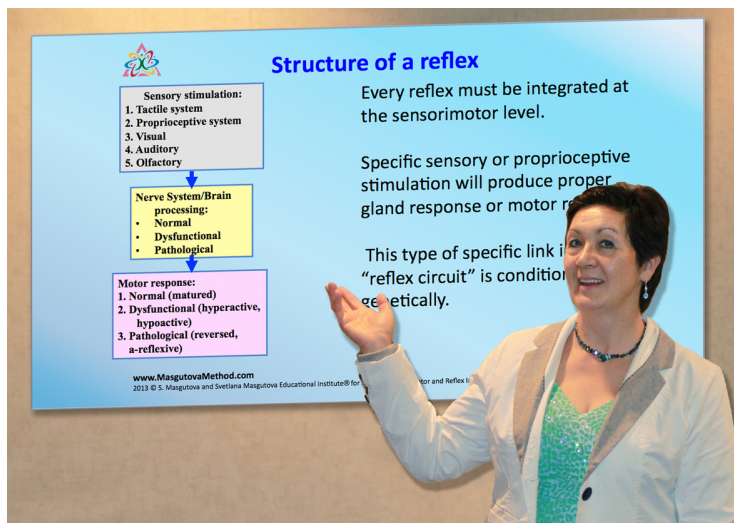

Five new articles have been published in the past few months concerning the efficacy of MNRI®. All are also on our website.

They are:

1. Masgutova Neurosensorimotor Reflex Integration \(MNRI®\) as a New Form of Manual Neuromodulation Technique –Journal of Neurology and Neurobiology
2. Progress with Neurosensorimotor Reflex Integration for Children with Autism Spectrum Disorder –Journal of Neurology and Psychology
3. Reflex Profile of Children with Down Syndrome Improvement of Neurosensorimotor Development Using MNRI® –International Journal of Neurorehabilitation
4. Post-Trauma Recovery in Children from Newtown, CT Using MNRI® Reflex Integration –Journal of Traumatic Stress Disorders and Treatment
5. Masgutova Neurosensorimotor Reflex Integration \(MNRI®\) Neuromodulation Technique induces Positive Brain Maps \(QEEG\) Changes –Journal of Neurology and Neurobiology

Please know that these articles were created using many resources and dollars from SMEI. The effort was great and these articles provide support for the development of the whole Method, SMEI, and all of us who use or benefit from MNRI®. Your support for our classes, family conferences, and donations to the Masgutova Foundation are therefore important to continuing our efforts. THANK YOU for all your support!

Dr. Masgutova gives public lecture in Netherlands

Over the last two and a half years Dutch MNRI® students have been helping children with Reflex Integration. As a result, some diagnoses have been removed from some children by their doctors, neurologists, and therapists. These medical professionals became curious about MNRI® and really wanted to have more information from Dr. Masgutova herself. So our Dutch MNRI® students invited these medical professionals to come to a lecture by Dr. Masgutova, while she was in The Netherlands. Dr. Masgutova gave a public lecture on MNRI® for Neurodevelopment and Learning for the medical community of Honselersdijk in The Netherlands on Nov. 7. There were 70 medical professionals: family doctors, surgeon, physiotherapists, osteopaths, child and youth therapists, speech and language therapists, occupational therapists, etc. in attendance.

The medical professionals went home surprised and satisfied with new information and additional knowledge. Working closer together with MNRI® Students and Cores in Training will become more and more of a serious option.

New Core Specialists

Colleen-Maree Bates of Australia says, "I have had 20 years of working with young people with challenges, varying from adults with brain injury, homeless youth, children with autism, and all ages with learning difficulties.

Finding Dr. Masgutova 4 years ago was a huge turning point in my life and now for the lives of my clients. I live in a small country town on the southern coast of Western Australia 300 miles from the nearest city which means last year I traveled for work 40% of the time, working with families throughout Australia and soon will be working in Singapore for one week a month."

Marc-André Charpentier of Canada says, "It is with pride and great honor that I have become an MNRI® Core Specialist, associated with the name of Dr. Svetlana Masgutova. I will use this knowledge acquired in recent years to serve people with challenges and needs related to their development and well-being. Thank you, Dr. Masgutova, for your generosity and knowledge."

Rebekah Meyers and Trina Deiss of Minnesota, US say, "We are both truly grateful and honored to be a part of the MNRI® family. It has enriched us in our capacity to serve the population that we work with. We are overwhelmed by all the love, support, and wisdom that comes from this beautiful work!" Together Trina and Rebekah are Co-founders of United1Front and are registered nurses. They are passionate about helping others on their journey to freedom.

So Harlen can have a full life

About a year ago, Harlen's (my son) occupational therapist told me about conferences the Masgutova Institute offered. I took a risk and packed us up, making a seven hour drive to Baton Rouge for a four day conference. After that first event I saw more improvement in speech in 4 DAYS vs 5 YEARS of speech therapy. Additional improvements were immediately noted by friends and family. Harlen recognized people and talked to people – actually had conversations when such memory and interactions had not been the norm. His teachers were amazed at the changes and asked what exercises they could do to help continue his growth.

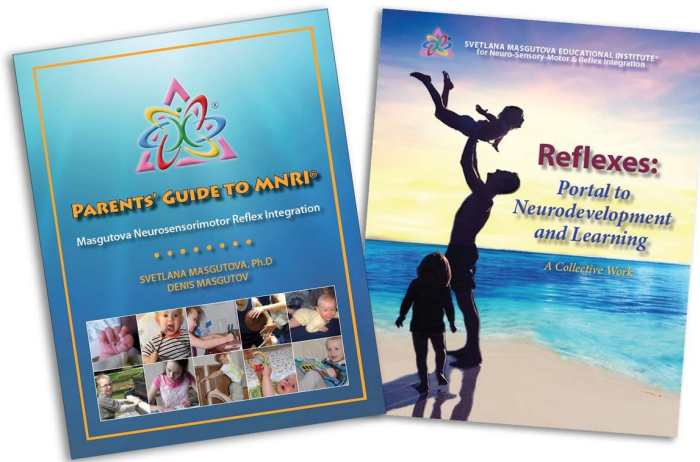

This is Harlen now. We're at our third Family Conference. Each one gives us new goals and marked improvements so he can live a full life. Yes – we're going to keep this going!

Two new classes offered

Two new classes will be offered in 2017 at the Orlando Center with Dr. Svetlana Masgutova.

1. MNRI® Reflex Integration and Immunology –
February 15-16, 2017

Dr. Masgutova has created a new course that will explore a new approach to strengthening the nerve and immune system; stress and the immune system resilience; and neuroplasticity, neurodevelopment and enhancement of the learning process.

Prerequisite: MNRI® Level 3 and MNRI®: Stress Hormones Regulation Through Reflex Integration. (Note: Stress Hormones will be taught in January)

2. MNRI® Reflex Integration and Dyslexia – February 18-19, 2017

Dr. Masgutova will explore the reasons for different challenges in learning based on 'rigidity' of intellectual and cognitive processes. This program will shift the focus from 'cortical' strategies to subcortical approaches to create emotional and motivational support and provide the foundational basis for language and abstract thinking development while creating behavioral-cognitive anchors.

Prerequisite: Current training level required: Level 2
